1. George Rio

It's really disappointing that this group voted against School based probation programs.

What about the youth on probation, and their families? What about those kids?

Where's the help for them and their families?

The public should thank this committee for rejecting help for the youth in our schools.

You have made it clear you don't care about the schools and the youth on probation, you care about the money. You keep talking about money, but only want the money for your political agendas.

I honestly thought that's what this group was supposed to, help our youth. But since you will not, who will.

It's clear you care more about the violent criminals being housed in safety, in comfort, in homelike settings, in minimal security, so you can get them back on the streets.

It's obvious you only care about the violent criminals, and not the youth on probation.

Probation is not the problem, people on this committee and political agendas are.

I hope probation can find a way to help these youth. It has to, or who will.
